

THANK YOU FOR YOUR DOWNLOAD!

Each of your students (or pairs or groups) will need a copy of page 2 and 3. Cut out the paragraphs on page 2 and sort them into the correct text structure on the sorting page. If you'd like to use this activity again and again, laminate the sorting board and paragraphs!

VISIT ME HERE, THERE, AND EVERYWHERE!

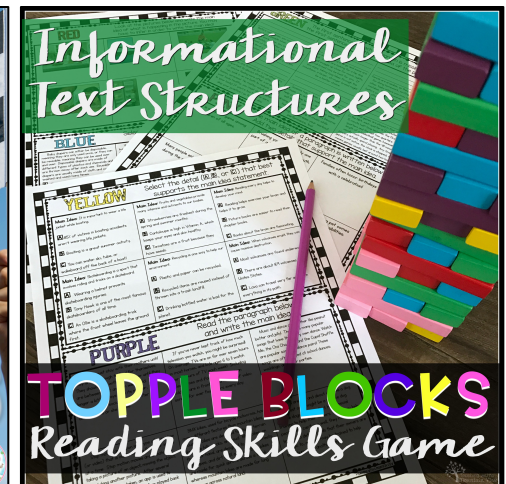

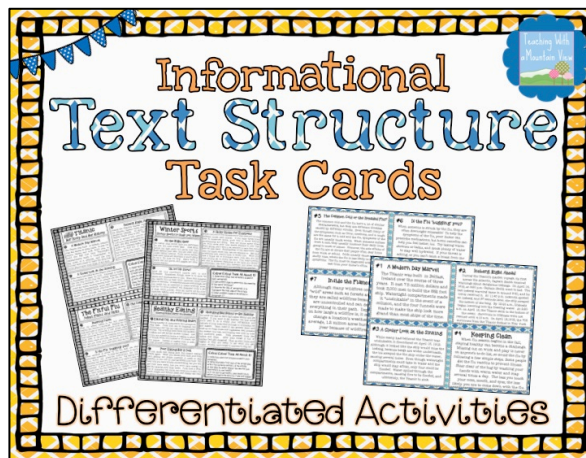

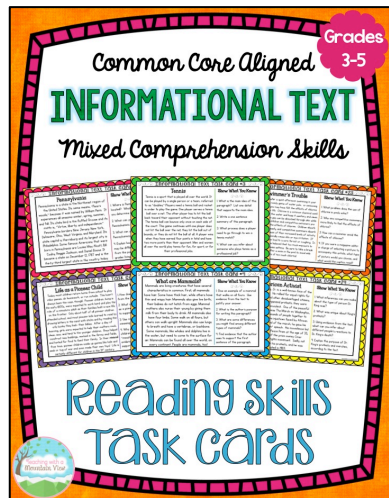

www.teachingwithamountainview.com

www.taskcards.com

Join my Facebook Group of Teachers Helping Teachers!

OTHER INFORMATIONAL TEXT ACTIVITIES YOU MAY ENJOY:

Swimming is both an individual and a team sport. Individuals can compete in events alone, but they can also compete in relay races as a team.	Ruth Graves invented chocolate chip cookie for her hotel, the Toll House Inn, in 1938. She first made the cookies by chopping up a Nestle chocolate bar. By 1941, Nestle began selling the chocolate in chip form.	Since chocolate chips contain less cocoa butter than baking chocolate, they keep their shape as chips while baking.	Mario was first seen in the Nintendo game Donkey Kong. Later, he was featured in his own game, Super Mario Brothers.	Chocolate chip cookies are made with both brown sugar and white sugar.
In 1938, baker Ruth Graves didn't have any cocoa powder to make her famous chocolate cookies, so she chopped up a chocolate bar and put the chunks into her recipe.	Mario and Luigi are twin brothers in the Nintendo games, and Mario wears red coveralls whereas Luigi wears green coveralls. Luigi is taller and thinner than his brother.	Fast food chains have been around for years. White Castle was the first fast food restaurant, which opened in 1921. McDonalds opened much later, in 1940. Chick-fil-A followed in 1946.	Since more and more people are becoming health-conscious, fast food restaurants are beginning to offer healthy alternatives to burgers and fries.	In Super Mario Brothers, Bowser steals Princess and locks her up in a castle, and Mario and Luigi work together to save her from him!
Swimming is a sport enjoyed by people of all ages.	Most fast food restaurants cook food ahead of time, then package it up as orders come in.	Mario can collect coins as he goes through Super Mario World. Once he has collected 100 coins, he gets an extra life.	Since chlorine can irritate a swimmer's eyes, goggles were designed to keep water out of swimmers' eyes.	Mario is a made-up character who stars in many Nintendo games.
If you're in a hurry but still need to eat, going through a speedy drive through is a great solution.	When starting a swim race, swimmers stand on the starting block. When the starter says, "take your mark," the swimmers kneel down into starting position. Then, an alarm buzzes, and swimmers dive off the block.	Unlike Chick-fil-A, McDonald's also sells hamburgers. Both serve fries, but Chick-fil-A only serves waffle fries.	To make chocolate chips cookies, dough must be scooped into individual balls and baked on a cookie sheet. On the other hand, a large batch of dough can be spread into a pan and baked to make cookie bars.	If a swimmer spends too much time in the pool, their hair may turn green from the chlorine.

TEXT STRUCTURES SORT

DESCRIPTION	ORDER & SEQUENCE	COMPARE & CONTRAST	PROBLEM & SOLUTION	CAUSE & EFFECT

DESCRIPTION	ORDER & SEQUENCE	COMPARE & CONTRAST	PROBLEM & SOLUTION	CAUSE & EFFECT
Most fast food restaurants cook food ahead of time, then package it up as orders come in.	Fast food chains have been around for years. White Castle was the first fast food restaurant, which opened in 1921. McDonalds opened much later, in 1940. Chick-fil-A followed in 1946.	Unlike Chick-fil-A, McDonald's also sells hamburgers. Both serve fries, but Chick-fil-A only serves waffle fries.	If you're in a hurry but still need to eat, going through a speedy drive through is a great solution.	Since more and more people are becoming health-conscious, fast food restaurants are beginning to offer healthy alternatives to burgers and fries.
Chocolate chip cookies are made with both brown sugar and white sugar.	Ruth Graves invented chocolate chip cookie for her hotel, the Toll House Inn, in 1938. She first made the cookies by chopping up a Nestle chocolate bar. By 1941, Nestle began selling the chocolate in chip form.	To make chocolate chips cookies, dough must be scooped into individual balls and baked on a cookie sheet. On the other hand, a large batch of dough can be spread into a pan and baked to make cookie bars.	In 1938, baker Ruth Graves didn't have any cocoa powder to make her famous chocolate cookies, so she chopped up a chocolate bar and put the chunks into her recipe.	Since chocolate chips contain less cocoa butter than baking chocolate, they keep their shape as chips while baking.
Mario is a made-up character who stars in many Nintendo games.	Mario was first seen in the Nintendo game Donkey Kong. Later, he was featured in his own game, Super Mario Brothers.	Mario and Luigi are twin brothers in the Nintendo games, and Mario wears red coveralls whereas Luigi wears green coveralls. Luigi is taller and thinner than his brother.	In Super Mario Brothers, Bowser steals Princess and locks her up in a castle, and Mario and Luigi work together to save her from him!	Mario can collect coins as he goes through Super Mario World. Once he has collected 100 coins, he gets an extra life.
Swimming is a sport enjoyed by people of all ages.	When starting an official swimming race, swimmers stand on the starting block. When the starter says, "take your mark," the swimmers kneel down into starting position. Then, an alarm buzzes, and swimmers dive off the block.	Swimming is both an individual and a team sport. Individuals can compete in events alone, but they can also compete in relay races as a team.	Since chlorine can irritate a swimmer's eyes, goggles were designed to keep water out of swimmers' eyes.	If a swimmer spends too much time in the pool, their hair may turn green from the chlorine.

ANSWER KEY